Guillermo Kuitca: Diarios will be the first exhibition in the United States of this series of works made by the Argentine artist between 2005 and the present. This presentation will also mark the first Main Gallery exhibition in The Drawing Center’s renewed and expanded building. Since 1994, Kuitca has taken discarded canvases, stretched them over an abandoned table from his parents’ garden, and then spent periods of time ranging from three to six months marking their surfaces with intentional and accidental doodles, drawings, and notations. These drawing activities occur in arbitrary zones around the table, and the completion of each Diario is governed by time rather than a formal consideration. The Diarios, as the artist calls them, are the most transparently personal works in his oeuvre, as they gather residue like phone numbers, titles of paintings, email addresses, blank spots where books sat, lists, and collaged elements that record the ebb and flow of life inside and outside the studio. To complement the exhibition, a video of the most current Diario being made in Kuitca’s Buenos Aires studio will be projected.

The Diarios comprise an independent body of work that allows Kuitca to introduce the process of drawing and writing to his painted canvases. For Kuitca, painting must be corrupted to remain a relevant practice; in these works, drawing joins other influences – from cartography to dramaturgy – to keep painting alive. Each Diario evolves according to the impulses that enter the mind, motivate the hand, and surface through mark-making. Although Kuitca is not interested in keeping a traditional diary, he cites Andy Warhol’s diaries and time capsules as inspirational to his personal practice. The canvases, made atop a central worktable in Kuitca’s studio, record all of the artist’s normal activity, resulting in a final work that is a hybrid of intentionality and chance. Remnants of... previous ideas and compositions are preserved, yet the resulting tondos depict something new and separate from his original concept. The Diarios, over time, become narrative paintings without plots, or abstractions without balanced compositions.

This exhibition is curated by Brett Littman, Executive Director, and will travel to the Eli and Edythe Broad Art Museum at Michigan State University, East Lansing, MI from February 22 – May 26, 2013 and then to MCA Denver, where it will be on view from June 21 - September 15, 2013.

ABOUT THE ARTIST

Guillermo Kuitca was born on January 22, 1961 in the Belgrano neighborhood of Buenos Aires, Argentina. Beginning his artistic training with surrealist painter Ahuva Szlimowicz, Kuitca saw himself as a painter from early on. His first exhibition was at the age of thirteen at Galeria Lirolay in Buenos Aires and he has continued a productive path over nearly four decades. In 1985, he represented Argentina in the XVIII Sao Paulo Biennial, and began to receive significant international attention when he was selected for a 1991 Projects show at The Museum of Modern Art in New York, in addition to his prominent participation in 1992 at Documenta IX. Notable Kuitca surveys occurred at the Instituto de Arte Moderno (IVAM) in Valencia, Spain in 1993, and the Wexner Center for the Arts in Columbus, OH, which traveled to the Center for the Fine Arts in Miami, and the Whitechapel Art Gallery in London in 1994-1995. Other major solo exhibitions include Guillermo Kuitca: Oeuvres récentes at Fondation Cartier, Paris in 2000 and Guillermo Kuitca: Obras (1982-2002) at Museo Nacional Centro de Arte Reina Sofia, Madrid, which traveled to the Museo de Arte Latinoamerica (MALBA) in Buenos Aires in 2003. Kuitca represented Argentina in the 52nd International Art Exhibition, La Biennale di Venezia, Venice, Italy and was included in Robert Storr’s concurrent exhibition Think with the Senses–Feel with the Mind, Art in the Present Tense in 2007. Most recently his work was the subject of the traveling retrospective, Guillermo Kuitca: Everything, Paintings and Works on Paper, 1980–2008, from 2009–11 at Miami Art Museum, FL, Albright-Knox Art Gallery, Buffalo, NY, Walker Art Center, Minneapolis, MN, Hirshhorn Museum and Sculpture Garden, Washington, DC.
